ADMINISTRATIVE HISTORY

The Society for the Encouragement of Contemporary Art (SECA) was founded in 1961 as an auxiliary of the San Francisco Museum of Art. SECA's objective was to encourage private collectors to purchase contemporary works by local and national artists. Groups of works were assembled for viewing with the intent of allowing members to purchase them. At this time, only half of the exhibit was dedicated to Bay Area artists.

SECA's function shifted to awarding prizes to individual artists in 1967 and focused its attention on supporting Bay Area artists exclusively. Its dedication to local talent manifested itself in facilitating dialog between local artists, SECA members, and art professionals outside of the Bay Area; in the educational programs offered to its members and the general public; in its encouragement of art collecting; and its awards' exhibition and promotion of local artists.

Individual awards evolved into multiple awards combined with small group shows. A monetary gift from the Charles E. Merrill Trust in 1974 increased the possible number of award recipients. Studio visits were introduced in 1981 as part of the art award selection process. The visits were intended to fulfill the educational requirements for the SECA membership.

A film award was introduced in 1973 and was held irregularly until its last occurrence in 1998. A photography award was added in 1976 and last held in 1982. Very little documentation remains for the photography award. A video award was added in 1988 and was last held in 1992. An electronic media award was held once in 1996, and an architecture and design award was also held once in 2001.

SECA presents several membership activities each year, such as presentations by artists, curators, and other art professionals, often held as informal gatherings in a member's home or art gallery. It offers art tours of cities both in the United States and abroad. The tours visit museums, important private collections, and galleries. Membership activities also include dinners, picnics, and other social events.

Membership to the auxiliary was, initially, exclusively male. Records show that by 1964, membership was opened to couples. However, women were not allowed to join until 1966 and even then they were only allowed to comprise 10% of the membership. Due to the gaps in the documentation for the late 1960 and the 1970s, it is not clear when women were allowed to join without restriction.

The SECA Council is the auxiliary's governing body. The officers of the Council include the Chair, the Treasurer, and the Secretary. The Chair is elected for one to two years by a Council majority vote. The position is responsible for presiding over all Council meetings. The Treasurer oversees the organization's budget and expenditures. The Secretary maintains complete record of all proceedings. When deemed necessary by the Chair, a Vice-Chair position was also added to assist the Chair. Generally, the Council consists of anywhere from 11 to 16 SECA members elected by a Council majority vote from a list presented by the Nominating Committee, one of several committees maintained by the Council overseeing activities and administration.

In 2001, New Forum, a group sponsored by and affiliated with the Collectors Forum, was merged with SECA to form a new education and collection group, IN/SITE. The Collectors Forum is an invitation-only membership organization that provides support for the Museum and its Painting and Sculpture Department while offering its members the opportunity to participate in the Museum's acquisitions program, as well as travel and education opportunities. New Forum's function was to nurture SFMOMA members and donors who were new or experienced collectors of emerging artists. Unlike the Collectors Forum, membership to New Forum was open to any SFMOMA member.

The programs and goals of the SECA and New Forum were seen as overlapping and it was deemed advantageous to combine them together. The decision was made to keep the name SECA for the awards as it was an already established and recognizable program. By 2004, the decision was made to retire the name IN/SITE and return to the name SECA. The new name was perceived by some auxiliary members, museum staff, and the local art community to be too confusing.

PROCESSING NOTES

A small portion of the collection was originally housed with records from the Office of the Director (ARCH.ADM.004 and ARCH.ADM.005). The remainder came from two sources: the older records were kept in the museum's storage area and the more recent records were kept in the office of the SECA Coordinator in the Development department. The series were created to provide structure to the records and facilitate access. Filing systems varied in care and approach depending on the coordinator in charge. Also, records were separated by irregular transfer of records by the generating department to different storage locations within the museum.

The records are primarily administrative in nature, pertaining to its organizational management, and that of its awards and educational programs. Duplicate or redundant records were deaccessioned. Files related to SECA exhibitions through 1976 can be found in the Exhibition Records (ARCH.EXH.001). More recent exhibition records remain unprocessed. SECA publications can be found in Publications Collection (ARCH.ADM.009).

The records are housed in legal size folders. Some oversized records are housed in flat oversized boxes.

SCOPE AND CONTENT NOTE

The collection dates from 1961 to the present. It documents SECA's award and programmatic activities and its administrative history through correspondence, meeting minutes, financial records, publications, press releases, invitations to events, announcements, press clippings, and other materials.

The SECA records are divided into four series: Organizational, Administrative, Events and Activities, and Awards.

The Organizational files document SECA's Council, Committee and Membership activities. They include official records such as meeting minutes, by-laws, committee meeting reports, membership correspondence, and member rosters.

The Administrative files cover the clerical and managerial aspects of SECA including general correspondence, financial records, fundraising efforts, and general clerical documentation.

The Events and Activities files document the various programs offered to SECA members. They include social gatherings such as member dinners and picnics; as well as lectures, panel discussions with significant collectors, and important art professionals; artists' talks in art galleries and SECA members' homes; national and international travel to visit museums, art galleries, studio visits, and private collections.

The Awards files relate to the procedures and production involved in the organization and implementation of SECA's art, film, and other awards. The awards honor local artists of exceptional promise with an exhibition at the museum. The process involves soliciting artist recommendations, slide reviews, studio visits, and selection voting.

Award recipients have included Bonnie Sherk, Squeak Carnwath, Michael Naimark, Barry McGee, Rigo '98, Kathryn Van Dyke, John Bankston, and Rosana Castrillo Diaz.

SERIES DESCRIPTION

Series 1: Organizational Files, 1960-2006

Cartons 1-3

The records include meeting minutes, constitution and by-laws, correspondence related to SECA Council activities, reports, and membership information.

The subseries are arranged alphabetically. Within each file, the records are arranged chronologically.

Subseries 1.1: Committees, 1972-2005

The SECA Council maintains committees responsible for organizational administration and membership activities. Each committee consists of at least one Council member.

Some of the areas covered by the membership activities committees are:

- Educational Programs
- Collecting
- SECA Awards
- Membership
- Marketing and Development
- Special Events

Some of the areas covered by the administrative committees are:

- Executive
- Nominating
- Other

Subseries 1.2: Council Retreat, 1983-2002

Council Retreats generally take place once a year at the start of SECA's fiscal year in July or August. The purpose of the retreat is for the Chair and the committees to review their administrative goals and programmatic plans for the coming year.

(Ongoing)

Subseries 1.3: Council Correspondence, 1960-2006

Correspondence intended for or generated by the Council.

Subseries 1.4: Governance, 1966-2006

1.4.1 Chairman's letter to the membership, 1966-2001

Chairman's letter to the membership served to recapitulate the accomplishments of the previous year, enumerate the activities in the coming year, and remind members to renew their SECA membership.

1.4.2 Constitution and By-Laws, 1970-2001

The records include revisions and updated versions of the By-Laws.

1.4.3 New Forum and SECA Merge Plan, 2000

The records include meeting notes, meeting agenda and transition paper for the New Forum and SECA merge.

1.4.4 Auxiliary Review Team Strategic Plan, 2000

These records include the auxiliary groups' plans. They were created as part of SFMOMA's strategic planning activity by the oversight group, The Auxiliary Review Team (ART).

ART was established to enhance the relationship between the SFMOMA and its auxiliaries, as well as improve coordination of activities and resources between the different auxiliary groups. It functions as an oversight committee and is headed by two co-chairs or trustee representatives. ART activities consist of three meetings per year. Meeting attendees include heads of each of the auxiliary groups, staff contact for each group, and other SFMOMA staff as needed.

1.4.5 SECA Operating Plan, 2004-2006

The records include correspondence, meeting notes, and meeting agenda. The goal was to generate ideas for new programs and events that would increase SECA membership and ultimately generate funds to support the SECA Art Award.

Subseries 1.5: Membership, 1960-2006

SECA memberships are renewed yearly. The renewal reminder was usually included in the Chairman's letter to the membership at the beginning of the calendar year.

In 1987, the membership year was adjusted to correspond with the museum's fiscal year which started July 1st. This was done to facilitate bookkeeping practices.

In 1988, a new policy was implemented that required SECA members to maintain current museum member or donor status.

In 1993, SECA membership policies were altered for individuals interested in joining the auxiliary. A single letter of recommendation replaced the three sponsorship letters previously required to apply for membership. The change was an attempt to enlarge and diversify the membership. The former policy was seen as cumbersome by some and elitist by others.

This subseries is arranged alphabetically and relates to SECA's membership. Within each file, the records are arranged chronologically. They are comprised of correspondence related to membership such as letters of acceptance, interest, invitation, and resignation; renewal forms; and member rosters.

1.5.1 Correspondence, 1971-2005

1.5.2 Letters of Acceptance, 1989-2001

1.5.3 Letters of Interest and Sponsorship, 1982-2004

1.5.4 Letters of Invitation, 1970-2005

1.5.5 Letters of Rejection, 1984

These records are restricted due to personal information.

1.5.6 Membership Renewals, 1988-2006

These records are sealed due to personal information.

1.5.7 Membership Resignations, 1982-2004

These records are restricted due to personal information.

1.5.8 Miscellaneous, 1983-2005

1.5.9 Rosters, 1960-2007

Subseries 1.6: Minutes, 1961-2006

The subseries consists of SECA Council minutes, agendas, and other related documents.

The records are arranged chronologically.

Series 2: Administration, 1962-2007

Cartons 4-6

The records are administrative in nature and include correspondence, financial records, and newsletters.

The series is for the most part arranged chronologically. The Fundraising subseries is the exception. It is arranged alphabetically and chronologically within the files.

Subseries 2.1: Correspondence, 1962-2004

Correspondence generated by or sent to SECA.

Subseries 2.2: Finance, 1974-2007

These records are sealed due to personal information.

2.2.1 Budget, 1974-2007

2.2.2 Cash Transmittals, 1990-2007

2.2.3 Invoices, 1992-2007

Subseries 2.3: Fundraising, 1971-2003

Examples of SECA fundraising events. They include the Arthur Rubenstein concert in 1971, the creation of the Bob Huston Memorial Fund in 1984 endowing the SECA Art Award program and the creation of the Susan Wildberg Morgenstein Memorial Fund in 1985 supporting projects in film and photography, and the establishment of the SECA Purchase Award program to purchase works by emerging Bay Area artists to include in SFMOMA's permanent collection.

The records include correspondence, financial records, announcements, and planning notes.

Subseries 2.4: General Administration, 1984-2006

The records include correspondence and other documents related to the production of a SECA 25th anniversary video, working calendars, and other administrative documents.

Subseries 2.5: Publications, 1971-2006

2.5.1 Membership Brochures, 1996-2003

Examples of brochures and brochure proofs.

2.5.2 Newsletters, 1971-2006

Newsletters/calendars contain information and dates for important upcoming events and activities.

2.5.3 IN/SITE Stationery, 2003

Example of IN/SITE stationery and proofs.

Series 3: Events and Activities, 1971-2007

Cartons 7-8

The series cover the social and education programs organized by SECA and offered to its membership.

The subseries are arranged alphabetically. Within each file, the records are arranged chronologically.

Subseries 3.1: Annual Dinner, 1983-2003

The annual SECA member dinner typically took place in September. It offered members an opportunity to meet council members, to learn about programs taking place in the coming year, and frequently featured presentations by artists or art professionals. SECA award winners were also frequently invited to the dinner.

The records include correspondence, guest lists, invitations, announcements, and planning notes.

Below are examples of some of the dinners:

1986

The dinner featured Ed Ruscha and honored Henry Hopkins.

1987

The dinner was a commemoration of the 20th anniversary of the SECA Art Award and featured the award recipients of the previous 20 years as special guests.

1998

The dinner was held at the Southern Exposure Gallery and featured works by emerging artists.

2003

The dinner was replaced with a reception. The SECA membership was invited to a small reception with wine and hors d'oeuvres followed by a brief talk and a masked wrestling performance by Carlos Amoraes, entitled Amoraes vs. Amoraes (Challenge 2003). The 2004 SECA Art Award winners were also invited.

Subseries 3.2: Fireside Chats, 1995-2007

The Fireside Chats offered SECA members a chance to discuss art issues in detail with recognized artists and art professionals. Each chat featured an artist and was held at a member's home. SECA members were encouraged to educate themselves about the Fireside Chat guest beforehand so as to make the event more dynamic and rewarding. The chats were meant to be intimate and were limited to 15 participants. They required a reservation and a small fee to attend and frequently had a waiting list.

The records include correspondence, guest lists, form letters, planning notes, and announcements.

Fireside Chats included:

- Nayland Blake, May 17, 1995 at the home of Ellen Klutznick
- Aaron Betsky, November 14, 1995 at the home of Ralph and Betty Wallerstein
- Deborah Butterfield, November 12, 1997 at the home of Phyllis Kempner and David Stein
- David Ireland, May 27, 1998 at the home of Nina and Ron Gilson
- Kara Walker, April 25, 1999
- Victory Garden Party with 2006 SECA Art Award Winner Amy Franceschini, April 16, 2007 at the home of Jerri Sue Gienger

Subseries 3.3: Miscellaneous Events, 1963-2007

In addition to the longstanding programs, SECA offered a variety of events and activities that only occurred once or for one year. Additionally, there may be little documentation on the event. This subseries groups them together. The General files in particular contain records of these events.

The records include correspondence, guest lists, planning notes, invitations, and announcements.

Subseries 3.4: SECA Evenings, 1965-2003

SECA Evenings frequently featured an informal discussion or lecture given by artists or art professionals. The evenings were sometimes held at a member's home and other times at the museum. Private events at galleries and studios were also planned. Due to the intimate size of the events, reservations were frequently required.

The records include correspondence, guest lists, form letters, planning notes, and announcements.

SECA Evenings included:

- Peter Voulkos, January 30, 1974 at home of Paul and Prentis Sack
- Jim Melchert, March 26, 1974 at home of Mr and Mrs. Gene Estribou
- Imogen Cunningham, September 26, 1974 at home of Mr and Mrs. Gene Estribou

Subseries 3.5: SECA Picnics, 1974-2006

This is a yearly social gathering for SECA members. It was most frequently held at a member's home and sometimes held at art centers that featured artists-in-residence programs. Depending on the location of the event, activities included artist performances, studio visits, and tours of private collections. Guests included SECA award finalists and prospective SECA members.

Picnics were held in 1974, 1976 1984-1987, 1989, 1995-1998, 2000, and 2005.

Subseries 3.6: SECA Saturdays, 1984-1998

Weekend art-related demonstrations and other hands-on activities that took place every two to three months.

The records include correspondence, planning notes, and announcements.

SECA Saturdays included:

- Davis/Sacramento trip to UC Davis' Richard L. Nelson Gallery & The Fine Arts Collection and the Crocker Art Museum, March 24, 1984
- Etching-lithography demonstrations lecture at the San Francisco Art Institute, May 26, 1984
- Visit to the collections of SECA members, May 20, 1995
- "Saturday Art Adventure," Robert Hudson studio visit and tour of the Oliver Ranch, May 17, 1997

Subseries 3.7: SECA Trips, 1963-2005

These were national and international trips offered to SECA members. They were limited to small groups and the events usually consisted of behind-the-scenes tours of important private collections, art galleries, and museum; cocktails and dinners; and visits to local sites of interest. They were lead by a SECA tour leader and sometimes by local curators or local hosts.

The records include correspondence, itineraries, planning notes, and announcements.

Subseries 3.8: Visiting Critics Fellowship, 1987-1993

The goals of the fellowships were to offer SECA artists one-on-one time with established art critics, to educate the SECA membership about art criticism, and to promote Bay Area arts. Activities included studio visits, public lectures, and more intimate SECA members-only talks.

The records include correspondence, itineraries, planning notes, artist information, meeting minutes, press releases, and announcements.

Series 4: SECA Awards, 1967-2007

Boxes 1-16, Cartons 9-10

Subseries 4.1: SECA Art Awards, 1967-2007

SECA began its art award in 1967. Initially bestowed upon individuals, the awards evolved into awards combined with small group shows.

In the early years, the selection process involved teams of four or five SECA members. Led by a team captain, they were divided up geographically: Sacramento, East Bay, Peninsula, and San Francisco. They were responsible for visiting artists' studios in their area and for nominating award finalists. SECA members would then have the opportunity to cast their votes. As the award grew, the artist visits and voting procedures were constantly being fine-tuned and modified. SECA members expressed a desire for greater SECA member and museum-staff participation in the selection process.

Beginning in 1988, recommendations solicited from Bay Area art professionals and SECA members are introduced to the search process. The allotted exhibition space was also increased two to three times in size. SFMOMA agreed to match SECA's underwriting funds increasing its budget four times for costs related to the exhibit and documentation.

In 1994, the evaluation process involving the selection of the finalists and the choice of award recipients was modified to include greater input from SFMOMA's Department of Painting and Sculpture. The selection of award finalists and award recipients would be made by the curatorial staff rather than the SECA membership. It was felt that the award would gain greater prestige and credibility from this change.

In 1996, Chief Curator Gary Garrels and Assistant Curator of Painting and Sculpture Janet Bishop selected three winners for the award: D-L Alvarez, Anne Appleby, and Barry McGee.

The records include artist applications, correspondence, itineraries, planning notes, press releases, announcements, and catalogs

Subseries 4.6: Other Awards, 1965-1982

4.6.1 7th Selection of the Society for the Encouragement of Contemporary Art, 1965

The records document the selection for the 7th SECA exhibition entitled "A New York Collector Selects..." by Mrs. Burton Tremaine. Mrs. Tremaine, a prominent New York collector, was invited by SECA to select paintings and sculptures for the exhibition and to give a lecture. The records include a transcript of the talk, correspondence, and a press release.

4.6.2 Vernal Equinox Special Award, 1970-1972

The $1,000 award was intended to introduce conceptual art to the public and to underwrite experimental projects in any medium. It was merged with the SECA Grant Award in 1973.

The records include press releases and announcements.

Vernal Equinox Special Award, 1970

Winners: Bonnie Sherk and Howard Levine

Bonnie Sherk and Howard Levine's "Portable Parks" project transformed sterile physical spaces into vibrant greenspaces. The VESA award garnered SECA a great deal of national publicity including an "Outstanding Achievement Award" for Bonnie Sherk from Mademoiselle Magazine.

Vernal Equinox Special Award, 1971

Winner: Terry Fox

Terry Fox's project involved a series of exhibitions in a window space at the department store, Emporium.

4.6.3 1980 and 1982 SECA Photography Invitationals, 1979-1982

The invitational was intended to promote contemporary photography. Emerging photographers from the western half of the United States, who had not received national recognition, were chosen. The event was held in 1980 and 1982.

The first photography event was held in 1976 and entitled "Photography Grant." There is no documentation for the event.

The records are limited to catalogs for both events, planning notes for the 1980 SECA Photography Invitational and an invitation to the 1982 SECA Photography Invitational.
